.177 22 Grain

If you think a 20 grain hollow point slug is not enough and are looking for a heavier slug with flat point, here they are.

Expect heavier impact, better penetration and higher bc with those 22 grain laser slugs.

Those have the same length and barrel friction surface as our 20 grain hollow point slugs.

.177 24 Grain

No more BC scarifying!

Change your pcp rifle into a laser gun. If you have a barrel twist fast enough and can reach the highest 900+ speeds then you will enter in the new ballistic era.

You can reach the furthest points at your range without having too much wind deflection and drop. Now your rifle can compete with .22 or .25 caliber shooting heavy slugs.

NEW PRODUCTS

BR50 .30

Introducing new high performance BR50 pellet with unmatched weight and head/skirt consistency. In the first place it is designed for 100m bench rest competition, where wind drift, weight and uniformity of the pellet means winning or losing. It comes with unique packing, providing best possible protection of the pellets, which assure you are getting only perfect pellets on your bench. In competition, nothing should be left to coincidence. You can achieve that only if it is made with passion and striving to perfection.

Lead free BR100 .30

Hunting or target shooting on wetlands where lead is forbidden is now possible, with lead free pellets.

Heavy Lead Free pellet is perfect for longer ranges because of decreased wind deflection.

Increased velocity up to 25% over lead.

Suitable for PCP air rifles only.
